Hello David,

I apologize for not replying by your stated deadline however, I'm travelling and access to email has been sketchy.

Nevertheless, here are my two cents worth.

I agree with the majority of Mr. Maxson's comments but I'm not entirely convinced about the proposal for a 400-ft tower to provide full island coverage - I'd have to verify his calculations. We resumed full operations at 11:30 p.m. on May 17 at 3kw transmit power at a height of 240-ft and are getting full island coverage.

Spectrum co-ordination would be required with Cuba should any high-powered transmission be needed to cover Cayman Brac and Little Cayman.

The need for additional radio stations should be based on more than just channel availability.

Hope this helps.

Regards,

Gregg
