

UTILITY REGULATION AND COMPETITION OFFICE

Dr. Vladimir Bulatovic is the Director of Economics and Regulatory Affairs. In this role, he serves as the principal economic and policy advisor, responsible for leading assessments and delivering expert guidance on competition and regulatory economics across all sectors under OfReg's remit.

With over 25 years of experience across diverse jurisdictions such as France, the UK, the Channel Islands, the Cayman Islands, New Zealand, Australia, and the Middle East and North Africa Region. Vladimir brings a wealth of expertise in competition assessments, regulatory economic principles, and market performance analyses in regulated sectors.

Vladimir's professional background includes strategic regulatory leadership, antitrust advisory, public policy analysis, financial analysis, market competition assessments, and infrastructure valuation. He has held senior leadership roles in major telecommunications corporations, including the Director of Competition and Regulatory Economics at Ooredoo Group (Qatar), where he provided regulatory oversight and guidance across ten jurisdictions, and Principal Regulatory Economist at Chorus (New Zealand), where he played a key role in shaping the economic advocacy for a new regulatory framework for fiber fixed-line access services in New Zealand.

Additionally, Vladimir has served as a regulatory and competition economist with various regulatory authorities, including the Commerce Commission (New Zealand), the Telecommunications Regulatory Authority (UAE), the Channel Islands Competition and Regulatory Authorities (Jersey/Guernsey), and the Information and Communications Technology Authority (Cayman Islands). His project expertise covers market definition analysis, regulatory cost modelling, competition assessments, and financial evaluations across telecommunications and other sectors.

Vladimir holds a PhD in Economics from the University of Orléans, France, along with an MSc in International Economics and Finance and a DEA (Diploma of Advanced Studies) in Applied Microeconomics from the same institution.
