

Russell Richardson

From: Airey, Robert [REDACTED]
Sent: Tuesday, April 29, 2014 7:27 AM
To: Consultations
Subject: Local TV

Hi,
In these days of internet we do not need local TV. IT is too costly considering we a such a small island.
We do not need the government channel either

Radio Cayman its web site, and the web sites of the Compass, and Cayman Net News supply sufficient coverage of local news
Local radio like Rooster in the morning supplies sufficient content

When people are struggling a cut in the cable fees would be welcome.

Also people are moving away from cable tv to internet streaming, so the number of customers for local tv will diminish year by year

Rgds

Rob